MONTPELIER

Fire in M. & W. R. Coal Shute Kept Firemen Busy.

A general alarm which was sounded shortly before 5 o'clock this morning called the fire department to the Montpelier & Wells River railroad coal shute and storehouse in the rear of upper Barre street. Spontaneous combustion is the cause of the fire, it is believed. The watchman, Joseph Murray, discovered the shute ablaze and turned in the alarm from box 34. The men worked until well into the forenoon before they had succeeded in subduing the blaze, most of their work consisting of shoveling the black diamonds. Upon their return to the station the firemen resembled miners more than they did fire fighters. The damage cannot be estimated until it is ascertained how much coal was consumed, but the damage to the shute itself is negligible.

In probate court this forenoon William J. Clapp of Barre settled his account as executor of the will of Callista R. Eastman, late of Barre City. George A. R. Bragg of Warren was appointed administrator of the estate of Lewis C. Senior, late of Warren. Fred B. Bailey of Berlin was appointed administrator of the estate of Frank Ellis, late of Northfield.

The following dates have been set for hearings by Commissioner of Industries R. W. Simonds: Aug. 6, Bellows Falls; Aug. 7, Brattleboro; Aug. 8, Bennington; Aug. 9, Poughkeepsie; Aug. 10, Burlington; Aug. 13, Jeffersonville; Aug. 14, Northfield and Montpelier; Aug. 15, St. Johnsbury.

Automobile owners and chauffeurs take warning. The Montpelier city council last evening decided that the motor laws of the state are not being observed in the capital city and agreed to instruct the police department to arrest and prosecute all violators of the laws, especially by those who operate their machines with the out-out, with glaring headlights and who fail to stop within five feet of a stationary street car. Discussion of the automobile laws came at the tag-end of a session which lasted nearly two hours, but which failed to reveal any business of much interest. Numerous communications requesting various privileges were received, read and referred to committees. The council agreed the janitors of the city hall should have vacations of two weeks with pay.

Prayer service for Mrs. Lydia M. Kenney was held at 11 o'clock this forenoon at the home of her son, George M. Kenney, Rev. S. F. Blomfield officiating. The body was taken to Chelsea, where funeral services were held this afternoon and burial was made in the family lot. Accompanied by members of Brooks post, G. A. R., and by Dorman B. E. Kent, who has charge of the arrangements, the body of Captain Josiah O. Livingston, whose death occurred at the Soldiers' home, Bennington, Monday night, was taken this forenoon to Calais for funeral services and burial, Rev. Lewis C. Carson officiating at the Calais church. The remains arrived in the city last evening from Bennington.

NEW TRACK RECORD.

Was Set Up for Combination Park at Medford.

Medford, Mass., July 26.—A new track record for Combination park was set up yesterday in the Bay State Short Ship races, when Koront, with Bruse driving, won the first heat of the 2:12 trot in 2:11½, lowering the former record of 2:11½. Jess Y. took first money in that race, after winning the last three of six heats. The last heat, to decide first place between Jess Y. and Koront, was the best race of the day, the Kingsley mare stepping to the fore on the home stretch and winning by a quarter of a length.

Five heats were necessary to decide the 2:19 trot. In the fourth heat, with Gillis driving Josephine Watts in the lead, Crozier drove Bettina too close to Gillis' sulky, and a collision resulted. The wheel was torn from the latter's sulky, and the driver was thrown several feet from the track. Josephine Watts took the last heat handily.

May Bird won the 2:16 pace in straight heats.

NOT A "PINK TEA" CAMP.

Ex-Mayor Fitzgerald of Boston Says Ability Counts at Plattsburg.

Burlington, July 26.—Ex-Mayor John F. Fitzgerald of Boston was the principal speaker last evening at the annual dinner of the Burlington Merchants' association. Mr. Fitzgerald had just returned from the officers' training camp at Plattsburg, N. Y., where a son of his is in training and he opened his speech with a heated reference to an editorial in the Bennington Banner which alleged that wealth and social influence had undue weight at the training camp.

The speaker stoutly denied the charge and stated that brains, character and ability were the things that were going to count there. He highly praised the men in training and their officers.

In making reference to Vermont, he said that according to the 1910 census, only 13 per cent of the state's population was foreign. If the foreigners should come into Vermont, he said, the state's labor problem would be solved.

TALK OF THE TOWN

George P. Haight of West Topsham was among the business visitors in the city to-day.

Baby carriages and sulkies, refrigerators, lawn mowers, garden hose, just received. Sadler's, Keith avenue.

Jack Bainbridge has returned home and commenced work this morning at the Western Union Telegraph Co. office.

N. Pelaggi, a Northfield granite manufacturer, was among the business visitors in the city yesterday and to-day.

Manuel Canoles of Bugbee avenue left this morning for Northfield, where he will spend a week's vacation from his duties in the Moore & Owens store.

George F. Gelts of Muncie, Ind., a retail monument dealer, is registered at Hotel Barre while passing several days in the Barre granite district on business.

James Hartness of Springfield, chairman of the state board of education, was a visitor at Hotel Barre yesterday and to-day. He was accompanied by Mrs. Hartness.

Mrs. Etta Coddling of Morrisville, who was called here by the death of her grandson, is passing several days in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Grimes of Merchant street.

C. H. White, superintendent of the city schools, who has been passing a few days in the city on business, returned yesterday to Walden, where his family is staying for the summer.

Mrs. A. H. Burke and son, Alden, of Summer street went yesterday to White River Junction, where they attended the funeral of Mrs. C. S. Wilson, which was held yesterday afternoon.

Charles Imah, the Long street young man who received painful injuries in an attempt to get aboard a moving fire truck last Saturday night, is making steady progress toward recovery.

D. J. MacNichol and D. W. Anders of Boston, who represent the Taylor-Critchfield-Clague company of Chicago, are several days in the city on business connected with the Barre granite advertising campaign.

The scale testing device used by the Boston & Maine railroad arrived in the city to-day, accompanied by two inspectors, who set about to establish the balance of the new scales recently installed in the M. & W. R. freight yard.

After repeated warnings against peddling without a license, Chief Sinclair detained Henry Poli this forenoon and instructed him to report at police headquarters this afternoon at 2 o'clock. It is alleged by the police that the peddler, who deals in fruit and vegetables, has been asked frequently to procure a license. To-day Chief Sinclair took up the matter with Grand Juror William Wishart, with the result that Poli was told to abandon peddling pending an investigation.

Private funeral services for Mrs. Gertrude Bartlett, a long-time resident of Plainfield, whose death occurred at her home on East street Monday afternoon, were held at the house Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Because of precautions against the spread of infantile paralysis friends of the deceased were requested not to attend the funeral. Rev. L. O. Sherburne, a Methodist clergyman of West Berlin, officiated at the services and the body was taken to Plainfield for interment in the family lot in the village cemetery.

North Barre is going to have a flag raising of its own as a result of a movement in which a number of young men in the north end are interested. A site for the flag pole has been selected in the West Second street meadow and after a recent invasion of the woods on the east hill a committee of young men returned with a flag pole measuring 40 feet. Just now it is being painted and if the flag arrives in time the colors will be elevated Saturday afternoon, although the exercises will be necessarily brief and because of the restrictions on public gatherings, only the committee will participate in the ceremony.

More than ever since the health authorities began to cope with poliomyelitis in Barre, parents are showing a disposition to co-operate with the police in the matter of keeping children on their own premises, and while there were occasional violations of the order to-day, they were few in number and are diminishing steadily. The order applies to side streets as well as the main thoroughfares and the vigilance of the special patrols appointed from police headquarters has resulted in sending a number of children to their homes. Dealers in fruit and ice cream had the worst to-day that members of the state board of health were to visit the city and that one of their aides while here would be to inspect places where refreshments, etc., are sold. A hurried putting of houses in order indicated that the health officers might be impressed by the immaculate appearance of the shops and stores.

The heat had an enervating effect on the granite industry to-day and for the first time this summer a number of plants were closed down because the working conditions were next to intolerable. Manufacturers are enjoying an unusual rush this year and there is not so much of a disposition to suspend work as there is in seasons when business has been dull, but in a number of plants where the owners disliked to shut down, the men were given the privilege of going home if they desired. Few of the larger plants closed entirely, but there were defections all along the line, especially among the men who work in the yards. To-day the humidity furnished a crest for the hot weather wave and with the mercury ranging well along in the late eighties and early nineties, it was probably the most uncomfortable of the season to date.

TALK OF THE TOWN

The Marr & Gordon plant will resume work to-morrow morning.

During the absence of Clarence G. Carr, who is taking a vacation of 15 days, route No. 2 of the rural delivery service is in charge of James Johnston of Highland avenue.

There are upward of 300 aliens in the Barre district who are anxious to secure naturalization papers and when Clerk F. S. Platt of the U. S. court arrived in the city to-day to conduct a session a number of candidates for citizenship were waiting for him. Court has convened in the court room at city hall and it is expected that 150 aliens will have presented themselves before adjournment is taken. The clerk and his attaches will return to Barre within a few weeks to complete the hearings and other sessions are to be held in this vicinity in the near future. Mr. Platt will return to his home in Rutland this evening. He is being assisted by the bailiff, James Halcy of Montpelier, C. DeF. Bancroft, the intermediary, who has been active in preparing the candidates for the hearing, and Francis Marron and Miss Holton, clerks. Mr. Marron was in Europe during the first two years of the war and is familiar with conditions abroad.

Quarantine Notice.

Until further notice there shall be no public picnic gatherings in the town of Barre. All children under 16 years of age are quarantined from the cities of Barre and Montpelier without a written permission from the board of health and such children are expected to be kept on their own premises as far as possible. Per order board of health of Barre Town.

BENNY LEONARD WON.

Stopped Johnny Kilbane in Third Round at Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, July 26.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, stopped Johnny Kilbane, featherweight titleholder, in the third round of what was to have been a six-round bout at Shibe park last night. Jimmy Dunn, Kilbane's manager, tossed a towel into the ring when two minutes and 59 seconds of the third round was over.

By his victory Leonard does not take Kilbane's featherweight title, as Leonard could not make the featherweight limit.

Aside from the cut on his lip, Kilbane appeared none the worse for the encounter. "Jimmy Dunn lost his head," said Kilbane, when he was asked how it happened. "I guess he did not want me to get hurt. I was all right and was soaking him on the chin every time. The fight should have gone on, as Dunn did not throw the towel into the ring until the bell rang, ending the third round." At no time during the three rounds did Kilbane clash with Leonard. Leonard won the first by a good margin, the second by even greater odds, and in the third beat Kilbane helpless to the floor. Kilbane weighed 127 pounds and Leonard exactly 133, the lightweight limit. The six pounds difference aided Leonard, but he won because he completely outboxed the featherweight champion and outlasted him during every minute of the fight.

The third round had gone but half a minute when Leonard started Kilbane to defeat. Kilbane led a hard right for the head and Leonard ducked. When he came up he shot both right and left to the jaw and Kilbane went back against the ropes helpless. He clinched with Leonard, and when Referee Frank O'Brien tore them loose Leonard landed a right hook to Kilbane's jaw. Kilbane staggered and fell, clutching at Leonard's knees. He was up when the referee started to count and backed wearily around the ring with Leonard in close pursuit. Leonard landed a light left to Kilbane's body and Kilbane dropped his guard. Leonard measured Kilbane carefully and landed a right across to his jaw. Kilbane fell a face downward. The time keeper was about to pull the bell for the end of the round when Kilbane's manager threw the towel into the ring, ending the fight. Kilbane was helped to his corner. Leonard is credited officially with a knockout.

A large crowd saw the fight, which was for a purse of $20,000, divided evenly between two men.

Purely Business.

Little Bobbie, aged five, was one of those who permitted few things to escape his attention and consequently was always asking questions. Some of the members of the family were talking about life insurance, and Bobbie had to know what that was. He was told it was a provision whereby, when his father died, the family would receive a certain sum of money. This seemed clear to the youngster, but it was noticed he seemed to be engaged in deep thought. Finally he said, "But, mamma, how soon will we have to kill him?"—Indianapolis News.

Equal Division.

"It's a good thing for man and wife to have tastes in common."
"True to some extent. But you can divide the newspaper more amicably when she's satisfied with the society news and doesn't want to take the sporting section away from you."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Their Opportunity.

Miss Fluffy—I made quite an impression at the reception, didn't I? Everybody seemed to be talking about me. Candid Friend—They talked still more about you after you had gone.

Mean.

"What did the lady say when you told her I was out?"
"She smiled and said, 'Friday's not always an unlucky day.'"

Good.

"He has a good wife, hasn't he?"
"I should say so. He can always borrow money from her when he goes broke himself."

A body weighing one pound on earth would weigh twenty-seven and a half pounds upon the sun.
